GIANT BURGLAR HID IN BELLEVUE UNDER FLOORING

Negro Who It was Thought Had Escaped Found After Six Hours' Search.

Benjamin Clary, the giant negro thief, who was thought to have escaped from the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital early to-day, was found this morning, several hours after the alarm had been given, crouching beneath the flooring of the ward.

Clary, a man of huge bulk, who was taken to Bellevue after acting insanely the Tombs, was not discovered until six hours after it was believed he had escaped from the hospital. During that interval scores of policemen were scouring the neighborhood for him and hunting along the docks.

It was not until an attendant thought to investigate the depths below three trapdoors in the prison ward that Clary was located.

Was located.

He was sound asleep, stretched out on his face and wedged under the flooring. When he was hauled out he began laughing upromiously, and said that he had hid himself for a joke upon the attendants. He had slipped down through one of the trapdoors during a moment when the nurses did not have their eyes on him.

MARRIN LOSES, MUST GO TO SING SING NOW

Under Sentence of Not Less Than 15 Years Lawyer's Plea for Delay Denied.

Court, Brooklyn, denied this afternoon a motion for a certificate of reasonable in behalf of Frank C. Murrin, recently centence within a few days.

Marrin was indicted in Kings County more than ten years ago for securing $70,000 from Mrs. Careline Barry, a widow, by means of figged mortgages, while acting as her counsel. Escaping the detectives he went to Philadelphia, where he assumed the name of Stone, and promoted the Story cotton swindle for which he was indicted and convicted by the Federal Government. Securing ball in Philadelphia while awaiting an appeal from a prison sentence, he came to New York and was arrested.

He tried to beat the Brooklyn indict-

He tried to beat the Brooklyn indictment by contending that the authorities of Kings County had no jurisdiction over a Federal prisoner temporarily free on bail.
